Funding Opportunity Announcements (FOAs)

- Program Announcement (PA and PAR)
 - Allows the NIH to publicly declare interest in supporting a defined area of science without committing funds up front.
 - Involves multiple application receipt dates.
 - Specifies only standard review criteria.
- Request for Applications (RFA)
 - Allows the NIH to promote a defined area of science by announcing an opportunity with associated, committed funds (i.e., set-aside $$$$).
 - Generally involves a single receipt date.
 - Specifies standard plus special review criteria.

Follow the tips in the blue boxes below to help you understand the importance of key pieces of information in funding opportunity announcements (FOA).

Relative Numbers of FOAs, PAs, and RFAs

(at a single time point)

On May 30th, there were 1,275 active NIH-issued FOAs, of which 1,033 (81%) were PAs/PARs and 225 (18%) were RFAs.

The numbers and kinds of FOAs vary over time so it is important to check the NIH Guide regularly for items of interest and changes of importance.

Notices in the NIH Guide are used to announce:

- Policies and procedures;
- Changes to FOAs;
- Some contract solicitations;
- Requests for Information;
- Other general information items; and (now)
- Notices of Special Interest (NOSIs).

A Notice that announces a change to an FOA is always added as a hyperlinked “Related Notice” on the first page of the FOA.

Academic Research Enhancement Award (AREA; R15) Grants

PAR-18-714 (Clin. Trials Not Allowed) and PAR-19-133 (Clin. Trials Required)

AREA grants support small-scale research projects in the biomedical and behavioral sciences conducted by faculty and students at educational institutions that are predominantly focused on undergraduate education and that have not been major recipients of NIH research grant funds.

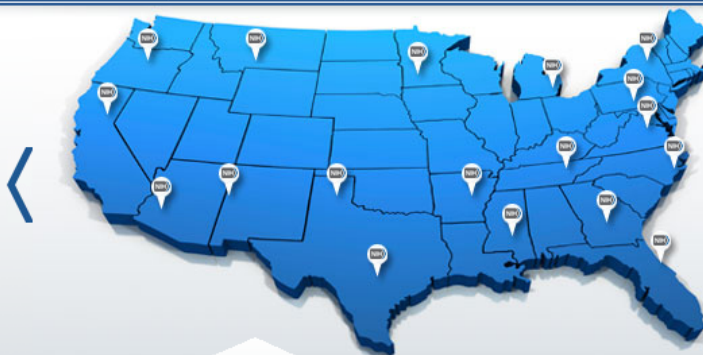

Research Enhancement Award Program (REAP; R15) Grants

PAR-19-134 (Clin. Trial Not Allowed) and PAR-19-135 (Clin. Trial Required)

REAP grants support small-scale research projects proposed by faculty members of eligible, domestic institutions to involve undergraduate and/or graduate students at health professional schools or graduate schools (that have not been major recipients of NIH research grant funds) in the conduct of meritorious research projects.

NOT-CA-18-037, NCI Method to Extend Research in Time (MERIT) Award for Early Stage Investigators (R37)

- Through this Notice, the NCI announced its use of the MERIT R37 Award to provide longer term grant support to Early Stage Investigators (ESIs). By providing such an opportunity for longer term support to ESIs, the NCI intends to give them flexibility and opportunity for creativity and innovation and additional time to successfully launch their careers and to become more established before having to submit renewal applications.
- The objective of the NCI's ESI MERIT Award is to allow eligible investigators the opportunity to obtain up to 7 years of support in two segments, with the first being an initial 5-year award and the second being based on an opportunity for an extension of up to 2 additional years, based on an expedited NCI review of the accomplishments during the initial funding segment.
- Investigators may not apply for an ESI MERIT award.
